The question of removing the Maternity Hospl, Bangalore to the Sanscrit College Building in the Fort was once before Govt. In G.O no: 8890-1 Med 135-10-19 of 23.5.12 it was ordered that the question should lie over for the present.

There does not seem to be any near prospect of a separate building for the maternity. Hence sanction may be accorded.

Its removal & the rebuilding of the Victoria & the Female Hospitals is urgently called for, not only in the interest of the Institution itself but in those of the patients visiting it. The usefulness

it is perhaps not too much to hope

The expenditure now proposed for building new quarters for the nurses. The question may well be over. But if there is to be any further proposal of a new building, I shall not object to the case of remaining by accepting the estimate in question

8 As large sums of money have recently been, or are now being, spent on medical buildings, the construction of a new building for the Maternity may be postponed for a couple of years. The question may be brought up again for consideration in July 1915

9 If, as seems desirable, the Maternity should be removed from its present position, it would not do to incur further expenditure on quarters for nurses. The Compound is already too small.

10 If the Second Member and the Extraordinary Member agree orders may issue accordingly.
